DEED OF GIFT ADDENDA FOR ELECTRONIC RECORDS

The donor acknowledges that Virginia Tech Special Collections acquires the materials with the intent of making them available for an on-going or indefinite period of time. To accomplish this, Special Collections may need to transfer some or all of these materials from the original media as supplied by the donor to new forms of media to ensure their ongoing availability and preservation. The donor grants the library rights to make preservation and access copies of materials in the collection and to make those copies available for use.

Special Collections may contract with university staff or outside contractors to store, evaluate, manage, and/or analyze materials in the collection. All such arrangements must abide by the terms of this agreement.

Does Special Collections or a contractor have permission to crack passwords or encryption systems, if any, to gain access to electronic data received as part of the material?

Materials Not Retained by Special Collections

In the event that the department locates duplicate materials within the collection or materials that are not of enduring research value, Special Collections will remove, discard, and/or destroy said materials. In the case of media carriers for born-digital content, Special Collections will either return them to the donor or physically destroy them after the content has been migrated to new media and verified.
