Cavs ‘Want Tech’--Parkhill

BY BILL BRILL
Times Sports Editor
CHARLIE FELSEVILL: When you are battling for the conference lead in the nation’s most prestigious basketball conference, there is always the danger you will look past non-conference opponents.

It is not likely that Virginia will do that Monday night.
The Cavaliers, who ran their record to 15-1 Saturday night by beating N.C. State, 69-66, on Danny Stahursky’s layup with 10 seconds left, entartain state foe Virginia Tech in soldout University Hall. If UVa needs any more incentive other than the state rivalry and maintaining its national rankings, the Cavaliers have only to look back a year.

Then, as now, Virginia was once beaten.

The Cavs had taken seven games and then had rested for 19 days during the Christmas holidays. Last year, proved to be a disastrous take. Tech blasted UVa right out of the cellar in Blacksburg, 84-74. Virginia was never in the game. It was over at halftime, and was perhaps UVa’s worst performance of the year.

“I know Tech isn’t a conference game,” said Virginia star Barry Parkhill. “But I remember last year. We weren’t ready to play. We’ll be ready this time.”

The game will be the second head-to-head meeting of the state’s two finest players, Tech junior Allan Brodow and Parkhill. Last year, Brodow clearly won the honors. He had a game high of 27 points, while Parkhill wound up with 12.

Both are scoring better this year. Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24.

Parkhill warmed to the Tech task by getting 30 points against State, 13 in the second half. Meanwhile, Brodow was collected.

29 points and 21 rebounds against Richmond Tech won its fourth in a row, running its overall record to 11-8.

We weren’t ready to play. We’ll be ready this time.”

Both are scoring better this year.

Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24. Both are scoring better this year.

Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24.

Parkhill warmed to the Tech task by getting 30 points against State, 13 in the second half. Meanwhile, Brodow was collected.

29 points and 21 rebounds against Richmond Tech won its fourth in a row, running its overall record to 11-8.

We weren’t ready to play. We’ll be ready this time.”

Both are scoring better this year.

Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24.

Parkhill warmed to the Tech task by getting 30 points against State, 13 in the second half. Meanwhile, Brodow was collected.

29 points and 21 rebounds against Richmond Tech won its fourth in a row, running its overall record to 11-8.

We weren’t ready to play. We’ll be ready this time.”

Both are scoring better this year.

Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24.

Parkhill warmed to the Tech task by getting 30 points against State, 13 in the second half. Meanwhile, Brodow was collected.

29 points and 21 rebounds against Richmond Tech won its fourth in a row, running its overall record to 11-8.

We weren’t ready to play. We’ll be ready this time.”

Both are scoring better this year.

Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24.

Parkhill warmed to the Tech task by getting 30 points against State, 13 in the second half. Meanwhile, Brodow was collected.

29 points and 21 rebounds against Richmond Tech won its fourth in a row, running its overall record to 11-8.

We weren’t ready to play. We’ll be ready this time.”

Both are scoring better this year.

Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24.

Parkhill warmed to the Tech task by getting 30 points against State, 13 in the second half. Meanwhile, Brodow was collected.

29 points and 21 rebounds against Richmond Tech won its fourth in a row, running its overall record to 11-8.

We weren’t ready to play. We’ll be ready this time.”

Both are scoring better this year.

Briscoe’s average is approximately 25, Parkhill’s average is 24.