Clemson Defeats Tech as Hokies Suffer Relapse

CLEMSON, S.C. — Inconsistency dealt Virginia Tech another fatal blow here Saturday night as the Hokies played Clemson head-to-head for 30 minutes then lapsed and allowed the Tigers to take an 83-73 victory.

Tech stayed within striking distance until the eight-minute mark and Clemson started piling it on when VPI was unable to hit from the free throw line or pick up a rebound.

In four minutes Clemson went from a 37-35 lead to a 77-66 margin.

VPI has had difficulty all season keeping its game consistent, Coach Don DeVo...