Coffey Opposes NCAA Ruling, Others Favor

Continued From Page 15

took among coaches of major national football powers at which 13 (about 25 per cent) of their recruits are lost to attrition. He said one school had lost 23 last season.

He contended he can't build a program of the proportions expected at his school without more generous limits.

Thalman characterized his 1973 prospects as better than in his previous two seasons, with team dominated by sophomores and juniors who benefited a great deal from having played as freshmen and sophomores in 1972.

Thalman listed his team’s strong points as the passing of Tom Schultze, the receiving of Ferguson High grad Ronnie Moore and the running of Ronnie Norman.

Lage, felt the return of 30 lettermen was the Spiders' biggest asset. He cited senior fullback Barty Smith, fullback George Crossman and running back Bobby Allen as the team's top players.

Lawrence cited a positive-attitude campaign going on at the Charlottesville school as the strongest single factor in the Cavaliers favor.

Root, most optimistic of the five, said the state of flux which had been part of the Indian picture for several years, has given way to a very stable situation.