Tech Broadcast Team Announced

BLACKSBURG—Don Lloyd Fleeger and Bill Moss, both familiar to the Virginia Tech football scene, will comprise Tech's broadcast team for the 1974 season, Frank Moseley, athletic director, announced here Saturday.

Fleeger, who uses the professional air name of Don Lloyd, did color commentary for Tech's 1973 broadcasts. He will take over play-by-play, replacing Marty Brennaman who recently became the voice of the Cincinnati Reds.

Moss, for the last three years, did play-by-play for delayed telecasts of Tech football on WBRA-TV and other educational channels within the state. He will serve as color man in '74.

"We've been impressed with the way each of these men has handled himself in connection with Tech football in the past, and we believe that they'll give us a very strong team for our broadcasts in the coming season," Moseley said.

Fleeger, a native of Ohio and a veteran of 20 years in radio, including three as play-by-play man for Wm. and Mary, has worked in the state since 1967 and has been close to the Tech scene since 1970.

Moss, a native of Richmond who has been in radio and TV for 11 years, first worked with college football in 1967 as color commentator for University of Richmond.
