Coffey on Tech: ‘Good, Erratic’

BLACKSBURG — A lot of good things but over-all too erratic — that’s the way coach Charlie Coffey saw Virginia Tech’s football scrimmage here Saturday.

“Bruce Arians threw the ball well. Rick Popp ran well. Phil Rogers ran well. Paul Adams showed improvement. Skip Creasey made some fine catches. There were some good runs and some sharp, crisp tackles.

“We can continue to make progress if we get everybody well. We have ability, but we need to be eliminating mistakes and working toward perfection right now; we can’t wait until Fall.”

The scrimmage, with many visiting high school coaches throughout the state in attendance, was the Gobblers’ seventh Spring session.
