Sherry Jamarik
Head Coach
1st Year

Sherry Jamarik begins her first complete year as coach of the women's tennis team. She took over as coach in mid-season last year and guided the team to a 5-1 record.

Before coming to Tech, the 28-year old Arlington native received a b.s. from Radford College in 1970 and an m.s. from Madison in 1974. While a student at Radford, she participated in tennis, volleyball, basketball, and hockey. After having graduated from Radford, she taught physical education at Lexington High School for four years.

Jamarik has been at Tech since 1974. She is completing requirements for a Ph.D. in health and physical education and also serves as a graduate assistant.

Outlook

With seven starters returning from last year's squad which finished with a 5-1 record and took second in the Emory and Henry Invitational combined with freshman talent, the outlook is promising for Tech's women tennis players to have a successful season in their first year of varsity competition.

Coach Sherry Jamarik said, "We should have a terrific season. We have a very good group of underclassmen, so the outlook is good for the future."

Returning standouts for the Gobblers include; sophomore Ann Grubs, who is one of the top prep players in the state; junior Nancy Nixon, and the doubles team of sophomores Tina Wujick and Ellen Dean.

Joining them will be Jill Allen, a freshman, who was one of the top prep players in 1976.

Toughest competition for the team should come from Radford and the University of Virginia.

Jamarik's goals for the season are to do well in the tournaments and to win each of our individual matches.

"I think we can do this with our talent. The girls have been practicing hard on the indoor courts," Jamarik added, "We will be able to play our early spring matches on these courts and this also will be an advantage."

Jamarik predicted, "We have a good chance to do really well in the state tournament and to win the Emory and Henry Invitational. We just lost that last year by a slim margin to Radford College."
