Three Techmen Are Champs

BLACKSBURG—Three members of Virginia Tech’s track team have qualified for the NCAA Championships at the University of Illinois in Champaign, Ill. June 2-4.

Coach Russ Whitenack said that runner Kenny Lewis has qualified but won’t go, wishing to remain on campus to work on his grades which are in the “B” range.

Competing in the nationals will be pole vaulter Keith Neff, who holds the Virginia record and sprinter Dennis Scott who will run in the 100 meters.

Whitenack added that there is the possibility that another track performer could qualify if his performance in the Tom Black Classic in Tennessee this weekend is outstanding.
