Tech Soccer Team Wins

BLACKSBURG — Virginia Tech scored three goals in the first four minutes of play and then coasted to a 4-0 soccer victory over Wednesday afternoon.

The Gobblers struck quickly with Sam Vitass scoring on an assist from Jim Johnson just 1:05 into the game. A little over a minute later, that twosome teamed again for Tech's second goal and, at the 3:38 mark, Perry Manning added a third tally on an assist by Jay Porter.

Tech ended the scoring midway through the first period, with Skip Keller finding the net on Johnson's third assist of the afternoon.

In raising its record to 4-3, Tech outshot the visitors, 29-13.
